Slate public hearing

Propose 31 percent township levy hike

by GLORIA DAVIS

There will be a public hearing concerning the proposed increase of the levy for Antioch Township, at 8:15 p.m., on Thursday, August 11, at the Antioch Township office on Rte. 173.

According to Antioch Township Clerk Richard Harland, this doesn't mean, that if the proposed increase is accepted, there will be a property tax raise of 31 percent for Antioch Township residents but it will mean a property tax increase.

Harland said individual property assessment and other things are considered in the tax.

"The hard thing about all this is that we have to file a levy figure in September, which is before we receive the assessed property valuations since the state and county have not given us their figures, the equalizers etc.," said Harland.

This means the township has to file a levy figure even before it knows what income to expect.

"That figure is sometimes on the high-side to make sure everything is covered," added Harland, who urges no presuppositions, but people to attend the public hearing to find out what really is going to happen.

Last year's levy amounted to $264,544.60. The levy proposed by the Antioch Township Board for 1983-84 is $348,000.

According to the township clerk, the largest single item causing the levy increase falls under funds needed for general assistance.

He added that many things were the cause of this including an expected greater need for assistance and possible fund cuts.

According to Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields, the increase in the general assistance figures are based on the fact that the coffers for that fund are empty.

Three years ago there was no levy for general assistance because those monies came from funds on hand from a previous administration.

"That guestimation is only up about $40,000 which would mean 2.3 cents on the tax bill," said Fields, adding that this may be an over guestimation.

Fields quoted additional reasons for more general assistance monies such as the township having to give people help while they wait to hear from Illinois Public Aid.

"It used to take less than two weeks for the application approval now it takes anywhere from four to eight weeks," said Fields.

With Illinois Public Aid Funds low, Fields added that the township might be forced to hire a social worker to investigate assistance requests, an additional township expense.

More bad news may be forthcoming for township residents from another public hearing slated for the Antioch Township Road Dist., at 8:30 p.m., on Thursday, August 14, again at the Antioch Township office.

According to a legal notice received by this newspaper the proposed levy for 1983-84 "extended or estimated to be extended" will show a 10 percent increase over that of the preceding year.

The proposed levy for the current year is $219,209.92 and that of the preceding year was $199,151.55.

Township residents are also urged to attend this meeting since those figures also do not tell the entire story and the components of this proposed raise will be explained at the public hearing.

Byzantine Mission moves from Antioch

Parishioners of St. Irene Byzantine Catholic Mission of the Diocese of Parma, who have been meeting at the convent chapel of St. Peter Church in Antioch for five years, have changed to a new location.

The new church is located at the former Woodworth School in Bristol. The building was purchased last spring and will house the church, a hall, meeting rooms, classrooms and future priest's residence.

The aim of the new church is to serve Byzantine Rite Catholics, who are members of the second largest branch of the Catholic Church. Religious beliefs are the same as the largest branch, the Roman Rite.

Byzantine Catholics trace their roots back to Constantinople. Liturgy is celebrated in English.

Parishioners follow customs from their native lands, such as the blessing of homes by the parish priest after Epiphany and the blessings of baskets of specially prepared Easter food.

The new church is located on Hwy. 50, about five miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line, and Hwy. MB, about two miles west of Interstate 94.

The Rev. Francis Kub, associate pastor of St. Peter Church in Antioch, will continue to celebrate liturgy in the Byzantine Rite. Services will be held every Sunday at 10 a.m.

Mailing address is PO Box 266, Bristol, Wis., 53104. For more information, contact Dave or Barbara Thomas, (414) 242-6626; Bob or Mary Berg, (312) 395-0921 or Rev. Kub, (312) 395-0274.

Ask Dr. Sven
by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

WHAT DOES SALIVA DO?

Q. Is saliva important to dental health?

A. Saliva is not only important, it's essential! Basically, of course, saliva lubricates food so that you can move it around in the mouth while you chew, and then swallow it. In addition, saliva contains special enzymes that help you to digest foods, particularly the starchy ones, before they reach your stomach. And it has other importance, as well.

Saliva has the chemical ability to neutralize foods that may be either acidic or basic. Without it, these foods could irritate or even burn the sensitive skin of your mouth. By neutralizing acids produced by mouth germs, saliva helps prevent tooth decay; when you have any sort of cut or irritation inside the mouth, saliva helps to disinfect and heal it, fighting as many as 80 different kinds of germs found in the mouth.

Stage review

Biel gets 'World' acclaim for making people laugh

by GLORIA DAVIS

If you think that life today is a circus and you're surrounded by a lot of clowns, you will easily identify with the characters in PM&L Theater's new musical offering, "Stop The World-I Want To Get Off." The cast of "World" has taken a big theatrical bite since they play everybody looking like nobody.

The writers of the production, Leslie Bricuss and Anthony Newley, did not intend that it should be a light frothy tired businessmen's show and indeed it isn't. To get the full intent, the audience must carefully pay attention from the opening to the final curtain or completely lose the story line.

The setting is a circus tent, the lead, Littlechap, is dressed as a clown, a real soul mirroring costume, and all the players, are in tights, wearing anonymous mime faces.

Larry Bullman, PM&L favorite, sails naturally through the very difficult role as that of a selfish businessman, at times so naturally his character becomes somewhat bland.

This reviewer would like to see a little more omnipresence when he should be commanding the stage.

Stealing the entire show is Jennifer Biel who not only plays Littlechap's abused wife but all his subsequent girlfriends. Her great sense of comedy timing makes her portrayals special.

There's not much one can say about the rest of the cast individually since they fade into a collective maze of tights and white faces.

During the performance I began to wonder if I was not too busy trying to figure out who was who to be entertained.

Of course the famous Newley tunes are great with "What Kind of Fool Am I?", "Once In A Lifetime," and "Gonna Build A Mountain" topping the list.

Direction is by Barb Miller and the different sets and costuming are spearheaded by Tom Hausman.

Yankees win one, lose other

In T-Ball action last week, the Yankees picked up their first victory of the season while handing the Mets their first defeat.

Karen Anderson got the game winning hit in the bottom of the fifth inning with the bases loaded to bring in Lora Persha from third base.

Jeremiah Brown, Jimmy O'Donnel, and Russel Todd all had key hits in the inning to turn their 28-24 deficit into a 29-28 victory.

The Mets kept it close with good plays by Levi Pleviak, Mike Pipkorn and Danny Hammond.

In Thursday's, July 28 action, the Blue Jays moved into a tie for first place with a victory over the Yankees by the score of 24-12.

Chris Passarella stopped the Yankees with eight force outs at the plate. Erin O'Connell, Brad Rubash and Passarella each contributed to the victory with many clutch hits.

The Yankees played well behind Mike Flannigan and Jimmy Doolittle to keep it close for the first few innings.

Vikings announce registration dates

Football season is just around the corner and registration for participation in the Antioch Viking Junior Tackle Football program will be held at the Antioch Scout House, Main St. next to the library, for three consecutive weekends.

The dates are July 29, 6 to 9 p.m.; July 30, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; August 5, 6 to 9 p.m.; August 6, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; August 12, 6 to 9 p.m. and August 13, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Participation is limited to boys entering fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades this fall and they must be under the age of 15 as of Sept. 1, 1983.

Registration fee is $35 per boy and $30 for each additional boy per family. Registration covers all league fees and officials cost. Each boy will receive practice and game equipment, football shoes, practice jersey, socks and mouthguard and a plaque of participation given out on awards night.

Cheerleaders' registration will also be held. Participation is limited to girls entering fifth through eighth grade this fall. Registration fee for the girls is $10 each.

Questions or inquiries should be directed to Nick Pappadakis, president of the Vikings, at (312) 395-5770.

When I think about it Let's add-up those things that just don't add-up

by GLORIA DAVIS

Once upon a time, the main living expenses that "modern-day" man had to contend with were the cost of food and lodging.

Now, even though the chunk that those costs take out of the paycheck has grown a lot larger, the other bites taken by the utility companies and Uncle Sam leave the money plate virtually empty.

Where everyone is getting the money to pay for other incidentals such as clothing, medicine, and transportation, not to mention entertainment, is beyond me.

Maybe the billions in paper laying in the Master Card and bank loan files account for those expenditures.

Somehow the percentages just don't compute. With federal, state, county etc. taxes taking almost 50 percent of one's income, housing supposedly 25 percent, food 33 and one-third percent and the three "Big U's," over 30 percent, daily necessary expenditures already equal over 138 percent of that paycheck, forget the car payments, gas etc. and those $35 designer jeans.

And the ways we are either forced into, or merchandised into, spending money are just as ridiculous as those percentages.

The utility companies scream energy conservation and then raise their rates because of low usage. And the rates charged for the same product differ when one crosses that imaginary stateline.

For instance, Wisconsin Southern Gas has just applied for a five percent rate hike because of inflation and "other costs." It's those "other" costs that interest me.

That reminds me of the county welfare budget I saw that listed an expenditure of $500,000 on one line under miscellaneous.

On the other side of the line, North Shore Gas Co. has announced that local gas bills will soon go down as a result of rate reductions and refunds made by its pipeline supplier.

Hey Wisconsin, couldn't you switch to that supplier?

Commonwealth Edison and the Wisconsin electric companies have all hiked the summer rates during "peak usage times," and they are all constantly talking about higher rates to cover costs that will be lowered when they get these expensive nuclear power plants paid for, if we all live that long!

And I don't want to even talk about the telephone company which will be charging us more because Uncle Sam has cut into their profits by slicing that monopoly up.

Now the automobile companies are pulling themselves out of a hole by making it easier and cheaper (monthly payment-wise) to buy a $9,000 new car than a $5,000 used car.

The downpayment on a new car is less and in some cases non-existent and the interest rate is way less and available for a longer length of time, making the monthly payment on an expensive new car much less than that on a good used car.

So bye bye to the old status symbols. If your neighbor on one side just bought a new car and the one on the other side, one that is two years old, the used car buyer actually is forking out more cash on the barrel-head. Crazy ????

What all these figures that don't really add-up, add-up to is, in the not too distant future, if one is lucky enough to afford to live in a decent house or apartment, plan on freezing in the winter, roasting in the summer, using your phone for only emergency calls (or buying some carrier pigeons), going on a starvation diet, resurrecting those capri pants from the early '60's instead of buying the new ones that are back in style, and learning to play a fast game of jacks for entertainment.

Oh well, what are you gonna' do? I guess just take things as they come or don't come, whichever comes first.

Tradition associates pearls with tears and opals with bad luck.
